The Busy Corner.

Always the best of everything for the least money.

Fourth July.

"The Busy Corner" will be closed the ENTIRE day, July 4, 1900. Let the celebration be for one and all.

Wash Goods Take Their Annual Toboggan!

Just about this time we send Wash Goods profits on their vacation and hold a picnic over the counters selling the regular stock. This first real break in prices is the signal for crowds. Always has been, and should be this time, with this attraction on hand. The stock is at the height of completeness. Contains more of the summer beauties than any previous week. Textures so airy and fluffy that the wearer doesn't miss the sifting of the slightest breeze that might stir up the sultry atmosphere. Watch the following, for they say, "Come today sure."

One grand sweeping price and our entire line of Imported Dimities will move—not a few styles, as might be the case elsewhere, but at a low calculation, 125 of the latest novelties imported this season in navy and light blue, pink and white, and also mourning—all shown in stripes, figures, and dots—to put it conservatively, they are styles that would readily sell at the end of the season at 25c. Special for the occasion..... 19c

1,000 pieces of novelties in Batistes, Swiss Muslin, and Dimities, in widths of 31 to 36 inches—the best colorings of the season including many exclusive designs. Special for the occasion..... 12 1/2c

35 pieces of Genuine French Organ-dies—very desirable styles, for they are grades that sold earlier at 25c and 35c—special for Monday..... 12 1/2c

250 pieces of Beatrice Dimities, Batistes, a d. Lappet Lawns—in numerous styles—handmade designs—a grade that 12 1/2c doesn't ordinarily buy—Monday..... 83c

50 pieces of Plain Black Batistes—quality that is A1. Owing to the popularity of this summer goods, our 12c grade for Monday..... 83c

40 pieces of good quality Dimity—fast colors and the newest effects—our 3c seller, Monday..... 43c

25 pieces of Plain Black Organ-dies—another of our summer favorites—this time we give you half-price value in a 25c grade for Monday..... 12 1/2c

10 pieces of Dress Linen—best, plain shades—you won't waste time when you buy 10 pieces of 25c and 3c grades go Monday at..... 19c

SHOT BY AN UNKNOWN NEGRO.

Daniel Adams, a huckster, treated at the Emergency Hospital. Daniel Adams, colored, who lives at 1703 Half Street southwest, was treated at the Emergency Hospital last night for a gunshot wound in the left leg. He is a huckster, and was in company with Daniel Williams and Ernest Crumpton when he was shot. Yesterday afternoon Adams was engaged in selling produce from his wagon, and late at night he went to the stable near First and M Streets southwest. After placing his horse in the stable and his wagon in a shed, Adams, with Williams and Crumpton, started home. They walked along First to P Street southwest, and turned into the latter street. When a short distance from his home Adams declared that he felt a blow on his back. He turned around and saw a man from across the street, indicating a painful wound in his leg. The alleged assailant, with his companions, took flight. Adams says, and he was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where he was treated. Adams was taken home, and he was removed to the hospital. He will recover.

TO OBSERVE THE FOURTH

How Various Organizations Will Celebrate Independence Day.

Plans of the Sons of the American Revolution—Proposition to Erect a Memorial—Programme Arranged by the Oldest Inhabitants Association—The Forenoon of the Red Men.

The Fourth of July will be appropriately celebrated by a number of organizations in Washington. The Sons of the American Revolution will have special ceremonies in honor of the day. The Oldest Inhabitants Association will have a picnic at the base of the Washington Monument. The Red Men will have a forenoon of the Red Men.

The Sons of the American Revolution will have their Fourth of July services at 10:15 o'clock on Wednesday morning at the Church of the Ascension. The society has 200 members in its Washington branch, and they are carrying out their time-honored practice in celebrating Independence Day. Usually the service has taken place at the base of the Washington Monument, but in view of the heat it has been decided to have the ceremony this year indoors. The first three rows of seats in the church will be set aside for members of the society. The others will be thrown open to the public. The address will be made by John Habersham Elliott, D. D., pastor of the church, and chaplain of the society. Music will be furnished by a portion of the Marine Band, which, through the courtesy of General Heywood, Commandant of the Marine Corps, will be present. The Ascension Church choir, augmented for the occasion, and directed by L. E. Camp, will give patriotic airs.

The Oldest Inhabitants Association, which limits its membership to men at least fifty years old, who have lived in the District for thirty-five years, will have its meeting at noon in room 2, of the Corcoran Building, in Fifteenth Street. A number of guests have been invited to assist with the association. The address will be made by H. E. Davis, formerly District Attorney. Smith Thompson will read the Declaration of Independence. Prior to the public meeting the members of the society, of whom there are 102, will have their pictures taken on the south side of the Treasury. Fifteen years ago the association was photographed in the same place. One of the members at that time was three years old. They are W. W. Birch, aged ninety-six; J. A. Winberger, aged seventy-nine, and W. B. Berton.

The Sons of the American Revolution will celebrate the day at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, at the Columbia Theatre. The floor of the auditorium has been reserved for the use of the members, number over four hundred, and ladies. The galleries will be thrown open to the public. General Vincent, the President of the Washington branch of the order, will act as chairman. The reading of the Declaration of Independence will be made by the Rev. D. J. Stafford and Commissioner Macfarland. The Marine Band is expected, and there will be music by a special quartet. The society has its special mission, and has always taken a prominent part at such times. In addition to the programme of Wednesday morning, the General Executive Committee having the whole of the United States under its jurisdiction, will meet. The President-General, J. C. Breckinridge, will preside. Committees from a number of States are expected to be present.

One of the interesting matters for consideration will be the granting of a charter for the proposed French Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Fourteen lineal descendants of Americans and Frenchmen who took part in the American Revolution form the charter members of the new organization. They are headed by Ambassador Porter. Already they have placed the little cross that is the emblem of the new organization. It is in the form of a Maltese cross, on the three points of which are the letters S., A., and R. They signify either "Sons of the American Revolution," "Sailors of the American Revolution," or "Sons of the American Revolution."

General Breckinridge will present to the meeting of the Executive Committee a project which he has in mind for erecting a memorial to the men who founded the American Government. "Such men as the Adamses, Israel Putnam, Caspar Rodgers, Robert Morris, and Charles Carroll are unrepresented entirely among the many statues which have been erected throughout the Capital City," he said, discussing the plan yesterday. "It has occurred to me that by erecting a great memorial patterned after the Dewey arch or the Arc Triumphant in Paris, we could do justice to the many statesmen who now are uncommemorated. The cost would range anywhere from a quarter of a million upward. Placed on a height, as at the head of Sixteenth Street, so that it would be looked up to from every direction, it would form a magnificent and an imposing memorial. I believe that were public sentiment properly aroused, Congress would be glad to make the necessary appropriation for so worthy a cause."

Another thing which the Executive Committee will consider at its meeting will be the "Protect the Flag" movement. In many States the sentiment aroused by the flag has caused the enactment of laws making it a misdemeanor to insult the flag. Some of the more rigid statutes even make it an offense to use the national colors on the labels of merchandise. The Supreme Court of Illinois has pronounced such a law in that State invalid. The fathers of the movement have not yet prepared to carry the fight to a higher tribunal. Among the other celebrations of the day will be the Red Men's powwow at the Indian village on Florida Avenue, between Eleventh and Thirtieth Streets northwest. The members of the society are arranging a full week of merry-making, and will begin their sports on Independence Day. There will be speeches, fireworks, and all the other time-honored features of such events. A small admission will be charged to the grounds.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

Harry Deckman Complains Against Edgar H. Pullman.

Edgar H. Pullman, thirty years of age, of the firm of E. J. Pullman & Son, photographers, was arrested and placed at the First precinct station Saturday night by Policeman Sampson, on a charge of assault upon Harry Deckman. He was released from custody on collateral, and will today be arraigned in the Police Court. A showcase, and at a later date, boxes and signs, alleged to have been placed in front of the hardware store of Frank E. Hopkins, 450 Ninth Street northwest, by the Pullman firm, caused the trouble. The Pullmans occupy quarters over the Hopkins store, where Deckman is employed as a clerk. Some time ago Hopkins secured the removal of the showcase by an appeal to the Commissioners, and Pullman, it is said, then placed boxes in front of the hardware store, thereby obstructing passage. Young Deckman proceeded to remove these boxes Saturday afternoon, and while he was so engaged Pullman appeared. Then the alleged assault was committed, with the result that a warrant was obtained by Deckman for Pullman's arrest.

RECORD OF THE COURTS

A Busy Term in the Criminal and Circuit Branches Closed.

Six Murder Cases and Many Other Important Matters Disposed Of—The Coming Trial of Landon—The Keckhoefer Embroiderment and Aliender False Pretence Cases.

The work of the June term of the Supreme Court of the District practically ended Saturday, although today is the last of the session. As it is expected that the usual summer vacation will commence during the latter part of the week, jurors have not been summoned to serve in either the criminal or circuit branches of the court. The last of the jury trials in the Criminal and Circuit Courts was held on Friday last. The equity branches, as well as the criminal and circuit branches of the Supreme Court of the District, have been kept quite busy during the June term with the consideration of important cases. In the Court of Appeals for the District, also, several cases which have attracted considerable attention during the last year or eighteen months while they were matters of litigation before the lower court, have been disposed of during the last month. Among these may be mentioned what are known as the "Smoke law cases," the Funk and Sull murder cases, the Elverson Street extension case, and the Godfrey-Dutton case. During the last two or three months the health of Justice Bradley, assigned to Circuit Court No. 2, has been such as to necessitate his absence from the City Hall. The assignment of cases for trial before that court, in a great many instances, was undertaken by Justice C. G. Cole, who is assigned to Criminal Court No. 2 and also to the Probate Court. During the early part of last month Justice Cole also presided in Circuit Court No. 1, where Chief Justice Bingham, who took the former's place in the Probate Court during the trial of the Poole will case, Justice Cole was not qualified to preside in the trial of this case for the reason that he was one of the witnesses to the will under contest. After a trial which lasted over five weeks the jury which heard the evidence rendered a verdict sustaining the will.

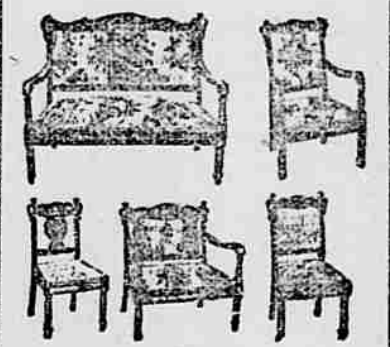

During the last term and also the previous term of the Supreme Court of the District, there was an unusually large amount of business disposed of in the two branches of the Criminal Court. In Criminal Court No. 1 alone 114 murder trials were had during the term ended while in Criminal Court No. 2 seven colored men were three times tried for making a felonious assault upon a white woman. When first tried all were acquitted. After their conviction they were granted a new trial.

The second trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury. The third trial, for the second time on Thursday last and will today be called for sentence by Justice Cole, who presided at the trial. When first tried all of the defendants were found guilty, but at the trial last week only six of them were convicted. After the first conviction Justice Cole imposed a sentence of thirty years' imprisonment in the penitentiary upon each of the defendants. The Criminal Court is best explained by the statement that at present there are but two cases which have not been disposed of in which the defendants are in jail awaiting trial. One of these is the case of James Landon, who is held for the murder of Mrs. Bettie Wrenn, in March last. This case was twice set for trial by Thomas H. Anderson, United States Attorney for the District, and twice was postponed at the solicitation of the defendant's counsel, who stated that because of the absence of material witnesses they could not safely proceed with the case.

During the last fourteen months Justice Clabaugh, who presides in Criminal Court No. 1, tried thirteen murder cases. Four of these cases the defendants were found guilty. The only other murder case disposed of in the Supreme Court of the District during the last year was the Funk case, which was tried by Justice Cole. When the Landon case was postponed a few days ago Justice Clabaugh informed counsel for the defendant that he would call it up for trial as soon as practicable after the beginning of the October term of court.

The other two most important cases which will be called for trial early during the next term of court are those of Keckhoefer and Aliender. In the former the defendant is charged with embezzling the funds of the Government and in the latter the defendant is accused of obtaining money under false pretence. These unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price 25 cents.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Man, Supposed to Be A. J. Miles, Falls in Front of a Locomotive. A man supposed to be Andrew J. Miles, a resident near Owens' Station, Md., was struck and fatally injured by an engine of the Chesapeake Beach Railway at Puhshaw, Md., just this side of Chesapeake Beach, late yesterday afternoon. He was brought to this city on a train, placed at the Emergency Hospital, and died there at the conclusion of an operation which was deemed necessary as a last resort. The left hip of the man was badly smashed, his right leg was broken below the knee, and he had sustained internal injuries. Miles went to Chesapeake Beach yesterday. While there he became intoxicated, it is said, and toward evening left the place and started to walk along the railway track toward Owens' Station. He failed to notice the approach of an engine, which was engaged in shifting several cars into position, preparatory to leaving the Beach. A short distance from the Beach the man stumbled and fell directly across the track. As he fell the engine was almost upon him and the heavy wheels passed over his body a moment later. He was fearfully mangled. A number of persons saw the accident. The injured man was lifted from the track, placed on a stretcher, and removed to the railway station, where he was placed on a train and brought to this city. A dispatch was sent ahead and the ambulance from the Emergency Hospital met the train at Chesapeake Junction. A quick run to the hospital was made. At the institution the man was placed on the operating table at once and an operation to amputate the injured leg was performed. Scarcely had the operation been completed before the patient died the result of shock and exhaustion. His body was then placed in the morgue room. Those who saw the accident placed no blame on the trainmen. Messrs. Bingham, Evans, M. C. Lee, and J. N. Beck, all of this city, assisted to care for the man on the way to Washington. The deceased was about sixty-three years of age. A search of the clothing at the hospital by Detective Herndon revealed nothing to prove his identity. An inquest may be held by the Maryland authorities.

THE PROPOSED RUSKIN HALL.

James Sexton to Confer With an A. F. of L. Committee. Charles W. Bowerman, of London, England, who arrived in Washington last week to confer with Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, is expected to establish in this country a college for laboring men similar to that founded at Oxford, England, by Walter Vrooman, of St. Louis, will return to England on Saturday next from Philadelphia. Mr. Bowerman was accompanied to America by James Sexton, who is also prominent in labor circles in Europe. Mr. Sexton will remain in America until about August 16, when he will meet the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at its session to be held at Denver on that date. While in this city Mr. Bowerman held several conferences with Mr. Gompers concerning the object of his visit to America. Nothing definite, however, was decided upon, nor is there likely to be until after the meeting of the executive council referred to. The college established at Oxford, England, by Mr. Vrooman is called "Ruskin Hall," and is reported as being a decided success. The working people of England have subscribed $20,000 toward the founding of a similar institution in America, and there is hardly any doubt that the proposal for its establishment will be accepted and endorsed by the wage-earners of the United States and the project finally carried to completion through the agency of the American Federation of Labor.
